823. 2. Trustee in Bankruptcy. — A dividend in the hands of a trustee in bankruptcy payable to the defendant is not subject to trustee process, although the dividend check is drawn and countersigned. Rockland Sav. Bank v. Alden, (Me. 1907) 68 Atl. 863.

825. 3. A levying and collecting officer can be garnished; if he answers that the property is in custodia legis and it is so found, the court will instruct him as to the disposition of the fund. He can in that case proceed and sell, but the proceeds must await the final decision on the garnishment. But if his possession be personal, or if he erroneously decides that the property is not subject to the garnishment and disposes of it, he is liable to the garnishor. Barkley v. May, (Ga. A voluntary appropriation by a wife of her money to the improvement of the husband's property indicates a gift, but it is upon condition, or rather in expectation, that she will be entitled to occupy it during their joint lives. Knickerbocker Trust Co. v. Carhart, (N. J. 1906) 64 Atl. 756.

2. While, in a gift from a father to minor children, the law will dispense with some of the formalities of delivery, yet a mere promise to give is not the equivalent of a gift itself. Donaldson v. Everett, 122 Ga. 318, 50 S. E. 94.

Where land belonging to a wife was sold and the purchase-money notes were made payable to the husband and wife, this fact cannot create a presumption of a gift to the husband of the proceeds, or otherwise change the character of the property. Tison v. Gass, (Tex. Civ. App. 1907) 102 S. W. 751.

Mere Possession of the property by the husband is not sufficient to show a gift, and the burden of proof is upon him to show the same. Title Ins., etc., Co. v. Ingersoll, (Cal. 1908) 94 Pac. 94.

In Pennsylvania it is held that a husband becomes his wife's debtor when he receives her money, and the burden of proof is on him to show that it was not a loan; even her silence at the time he gets it is insufficient to raise the presumption of a gift to him. In re Kreider, 212 Pa. Delivery of Passbook. — It is well established that the delivery of a savings-bank passbook, with an order for the payment of the whole deposit, for the purpose of transferring the money to the donee, is a valid gift, and is effectual although the book and order are not presented to the bank until the donor's death. A parol gift, perfected by possession and improvements of the land for more than seven years, was held sufficient to give the plaintiff a legal title. Brown v. Norvell, 74 Ark. 484, 86 S. W. 306.

It is well settled that a parol gift of lands, accompanied by delivery of possession and followed by valuable improvements by the donee on the faith of the gift, will be upheld. The rule is generally based upon the doctrine of estoppel, by means of which the statute of frauds, requiring conveyances of land to be in writing, is avoided. Tannery v. McMinn, (Tex. Civ. App. 1905) 86 S. W. 640.

145. 6. Brown v. Goto, 16 Hawaii 265, citing 15 AM. AND ENG. ENCYC. OF LAW (2d ed.) 145.

8. Alabama. — The authority to grant the writ is conferred on the probate judge, and not on the probate court. Code Ala. 1896, § 3372. Carwile v. State, (Rla. 1905) 39 So. 1024.

Hawaii. — Circuit Courts are only authorized to issue the writ in cases in which it is not demandable of right; original jurisdiction in habeas corpus cases is confined to the Supreme Court, its justices and the circuit judges, to the exclusion of the Circuit Courts as such. Brown v. Goto, 16 Hawaii 265.

Kentucky. — The Supreme Court does not have jurisdiction either originally or by appeal, of proceedings under the writ of habeas corpus. In re Channels, (Ky. 1907) 100 S. W. .

Montana. — Under the statute in Montana judges of the District Courts may issue the writ only in behalf of persons held in custody in their respective districts. State v. District Ct., (Mont. 1907) 88 Pac. 564.

Oklahoma. — Under the statute in Oklahoma jurisdiction to grant the writ of habeas corpus is expressly declared to be possessed by and vested in the Supreme and District Courts, and the Probate Courts are not authorized to issue such writs. Starkweather v. Kemp, 18 Okla. 28, 88 Pac. 1045.

West Virginia. — The constitution gives the Supreme Court original jurisdiction in habeas corpus, concurrent with the Circuit Court, and a rule of practice requiring one asking the writ to first apply to a Circuit Court is invalid and unenforceable. Ex p. Doyle, (W. Va. 1907) 57 S. E. 824.

Wyoming. — Under the constitution of Wyoming the Supreme Court has original jurisdiction in habeas corpus proceedings and each of its judges "has power to issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of the state upon petition by or on behalf of any person held in actual custody, and make such writs returnable before himself, or before the Supreme Court, or before any District Court or any judge thereof." And the District Courts and their judges have power to issue the writ in their respective districts. Tytler v. Tytler, 15 Wyo. 319, 89 Pac. 1.

The rule which has been adopted and followed by courts of equity, requiring a plaintiff who seeks to establish a trust in real property contrary to the express terms of the deed, which vested title in another, to make out his case "clearly and satisfactorily, beyond a reasonable doubt," does not find the same reason for its application in a case where a party to a grubstake agreement invokes the aid of a court of equity in establishing a trust in mining claims located on the public domain by one of the parties to such agreement. 5. State v. Rennick, 127 Iowa 294, 103 N. W. 159; Straub v. State, 27 Ohio Cir. Ct. 50, citing 16 AM. AND ENG. ENCYC. OF LAW (2d ed.) 135, for collection of authorities on both sides; State v. James, (Utah 1907) 89 Pac. 460.

State v. Freddy, 117 La. 121, 41 So. 436 (citing 16 AM. AND ENG. ENCYC. OF LAW (2d ed.) 135), where the statute provided that "Whoever shall hereafter knowingly intermarry, or cohabit without marriage, being within the degrees of consanguinity within which marriage is prohibited by articles 94 and 95 of the Revised Civil Code of the state of Louisiana, shall be deemed guilty of the crime of incest."

State v. Winslow, 30 Utah 403, 85 Pac. 433. In this case the court said: "If the female be not guilty because of a want of consent to the act it does not change the character of the act so far as the defendant is concerned, if, on his part, it was willingly and knowingly done. He must be held to answer for the consequences of his own act done with his knowledge and consent. When the defendant, with full knowledge of the relationship between himself and the female, willingly, on his part, has sexual intercourse with the female, the crime of incest, so far as he is concerned, is complete. His own guilt is not made to depend upon the mental condition of the female. The defendant's guilt here is measured by his knowledge and intent, and not by the knowledge and intent of his daughter on whom he committed the offense."

Female under Age of Consent. — Straub v. State, 27 Ohio Cir. Ct. 50.

6. Conspiracy on Part of Female. — The fact that the female entered into a conspiracy with a third person, whereby the defendant was induced to have intercourse with her, is immaterial. State v. Renneck, 127 Iowa 294, 103 N. W. 159.

136. 1. State v. Spurling, 115 La. 789, 40 So. 167.

4. Marriage Not Essential. — State v. Spurling, 115 La. 789, 40 So. 167.

137. 2. State v. James, (Utah 1907) 89 Pac. 460.

4. It is otherwise in Louisiana as to first cousins. State v. Couvillion, 117 La. 935, 42 So. 431.

5. Tagert v. State, 143 Ala. 88, 39 So. 293.

A man Who Marries the Mother of an Illegitimate daughter becomes the stepfather of such daughter, so that his intercourse with her will be deemed incestuous. Lipham v. State, 125 Ga. 52, 53 S. E. 817.

7. In Tagert v. State, 143 Ala. 88, 39 So. 293, the court while recognizing that intercourse between a stepfather and his stepdaughter after the death of the latter's mother would not as a general rule be incestuous, still it was held otherwise where at the time of the intercourse, issue of the marriage was living.

138. 1. State v. Rennick, 127 Iowa 294, 103 N. W. 159.

2. It has been held, however, in Iowa that proof of the knowledge of the relationship is not necessary though the indictment uses the word "feloniously" in charging the offense. State v. Judd, 132 Iowa 296, 109 N. W. 892, citing 16 AM. AND ENG. ENCYC. OF LAW (2d ed.) 138.

4. Testimony of a witness that he "believed" the defendant committed the offense is inadmissible where he had no personal knowledge of whether the defendant had intercourse with the female. State v. James, (Utah 1907) 89 Pac. 460.

The female with whom the accused is charged with having intercourse is a competent witness, and she and not the defendant is the one to raise the privilege against giving self-incriminating testimony. State v. Mungeon, (S. Dak. [illegible]

Declarations or Complaints of Female [illegible] dence that the female told other persons that the defendant had sexual intercourse with her is not admissible against the defendant. Gillespie v. State, 49 Tex. Crim. 530, 93 S. W. 556.

In State v. Winslow, 30 Utah 403, 85 Pac. 433, it was held that where the female, a child of tender years under the age of consent, was a witness, evidence of complaint by her of the fact that the defendant had intercourse with her was admissible.

Testimony of Medical Experts. — Testimony of physician as to condition of female's sexual organ held admissible. State v. Winslow, 30 Utah 403, 85 Pac. 433.

Ill-treatment. — Evidence that the defendant administered severe whippings to the female (his child), the cause of which is not shown, nor its connection with the act of intercourse, is inadmissible. Whidby v. State, 121 Ga. 588, 49 S. E. 811.

5. Bridges v. State, (Neb. 1907) 113 N. W. 1048 (flight).

Evidence that the defendant did not show surprise or anger when informed that the female, with whom he was charged with having intercourse, was pregnant, is admissible. Tagert v. State, 143 Ala. 88, 39 So. 293.

Where the city of New Orleans, through a board of commissioners, made a contract with an arboriculturist for the furnishing and planting of a large number of trees upon the neutral ground in St. Charles avenue, the city having no choice in the selection of workmen and no control over the manner of doing the work, and where the work of planting the trees did not necessarily constitute an obstruction or defect in the street, rendering it unsafe or dangerous for the purposes of public travel, it was held that the city was not liable with the contractor for personal injuries occasioned by plaintiff falling at night into one of the holes carelessly left open by the contractor. The cleaning and repairing of the cars by a street railway company is no part of its charter duties so as to prevent it from delegating the same to an independent contractor and thereby being relieved from injuries caused by the negligence of the independent contractor. Beckman v. Meadville, etc., St. R. Co., 219 Pa. St. 26, 67 Atl. 983.

205. 1. Proof of Incompetency. — Until the contractor is shown to have been incompetent, evidence that he was reputed to be incompetent is inadmissible. Huntt v. McNamee, (C. C. A.) 141 Fed. 293.

If an independent contractor who is employed to do a certain job is in fact a skilful and experienced man for the undertaking, it is of no consequence whether his employer did or did not exercise due care in his selection. Wilmot v. McPadden, 79 Conn. 367, 65 Atl. 157.

Knowledge on the part of the independent contractor of the defective conditions of the premises does not relieve the owner from liability to servants of such independent contractor. Stevens v. United Gas, etc., Co., 73 N. H. 159, 60 Atl. 848.

One who contracts with a boss painter for the painting of his house, and does not undertake to control or direct him or his employees with respect to the manner of doing the work, is not liable for injuries to a workman employed by the contractor, resulting from the failure of an ornament upon the cornice to sustain his weight, whilst he is engaged in painting. Metzinger v. New Orleans Board of Trade, (La. 1907) 44 So. 1007.

6. If a property owner employs a competent architect to draw, as an independent contractor, plans for the construction of a building, he is not liable to an adjoining property owner for injuries caused by the fall of the building due to defective plans. While an owner who makes a contract to have work done for him by an independent contractor, with his (the owner's) apparatus, owes a duty to the employees of the contractor, still the duty of such owner to the employees of the contractor is merely the duty owed by the employer to his own employee; the owner is not liable for an injury to the employee of the contractor caused by an obvious imperfection in the apparatus, if it is not out of repair. In order to determine the question whether or not the contract of an infant for a course in stenography was a contract for necessaries, in the sense in which the term "necessaries" is used to render the contract binding upon such infant, the evidence in the case should show the state, degree, and condition in life in which the infant is whose contract is under consideration; and it should also affirmatively appear that the parents or guardian of such infant failed or refused to furnish the alleged necessary. 5. Georgia Statute. — An infant engaged as a "linter" in an oil mill is not engaged in a profession, trade, or business within the meaning of the Georgia statute which provides that an infant who by permission of his parent or guardian or by permission of the law practices a profession or trade or engages in any business as an adult is bound by all the contracts connected with the occupation in which he is engaged. Loan to Minor to Redeem from Sale. — A minor is under no legal obligation to redeem property from a mortgage foreclosure sale, and a loan to a minor of money to enable him to redeem his property so sold is not binding on him so as to give the lender a lien for the money loaned. Burton v. Anthony, 46 Oregon 47, 79 Pac. 185.

284. 1. Ordinarily a lease may be avoided by the tenant on the ground of infancy, but while in possession thereunder the plea of infancy is not available in a suit brought to restrain him from making use of his possession to inflict irreparable injuries upon his landlord. Cole v. Manners, (Neb. 1906) 107 N. W. 777. In this case the court said: "The law permits infancy to be used as a shield, but not as a sword; the infant defendant, with his codefendant, is in possession by virtue of the lease. His infancy may protect him from the terms of the contract, but it certainly is not a license to use the advantages he obtained by virtue of his contract to commit torts and inflict injuries upon the plaintiff for which the law affords no adequate remedy. The decree does not undertake to bind him by the terms of the contract; it merely enjoins him from the doing of certain acts which would be wrongful if the contract were binding and in force and a fortiori wrongful, if he be regarded as a mere trespasser instead of a tenant under a valid lease."

But in Commander v. Brazil, 88 Miss. 668, 41 So. 497, citing 16 AM. AND ENG. ENCYC. OF LAW (2d ed.) 292, it was held that when a minor has reached that stage of maturity which indicates that he is of full age, and enters into a contract falsely representing himself to be of age, accepting the benefits of the contract, he will be estopped to deny that he was not of age when the obligation of the contract is sought to be enforced against him.

Formal Tender Waived. — Though an infant who seeks to disaffirm a contract must return so much of the consideration received by him as remains in his possession at the time of such election, still a formal and actual tender of the property by the infant is not required as a condition precedent when it is known in advance that such tender will be refused; but restoration should be made on the trial as a condition of the judgment. 6. In Mutual Milk, etc., Co. v. Prigge, 112 N. Y. App. Div. 652, 98 N. Y. Supp. 458, it was held that where a minor nineteen years of age entering into employment to deliver milk and cream contracts that he will not solicit business from the customers of his employer for three years after leaving the employer's employ, and the minor does leave the employ of his employer and enters the employment of another, he will be enjoined from soliciting the business of his first employer's custom.

In Braucht v. Graves-May Co., 92 Minn. 116, 99 N. W. 417, it was held that where the benefits received by the minor are of such a nature that he cannot restore them, he may rescind, and recover what he parted with under the contract, unless the other party shows that the contract was a fair, reasonable, and provident one, free from fraud or overreaching on his part. This case involved the purchase by a commission merchant of grain on a margin.

By repudiating his contract of life insurance and surrendering to the insurance company his policy therefor, the infant may recover the whole amount of premiums paid by him thereon. Prudential L. Ins. Co. v. Fuller, 29 Ohio Cir. Ct. 415.

Where an infant uses money received for the purpose of securing an education, the rule requiring the consideration received by the infant to be returned if in his possession, or any substantial part of the same, or property which is procured with such consideration in order to entitle him to rescind the contract, does not

In Illinois the Rule Is Well Settled that where a city is attempting to enforce an ordinance which is alleged to be invalid, against numerous persons whose interests are identical, such persons may file a bill, upon behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated, against the city for an injunction, and that a court of equity, in order to avoid a multiplicity of suits, and to the end that the controversy may be determined in one suit, will, if the ordinance be found to be invalid, enjoin the enforcement thereof. The valuation for the test of solvency or insolvency of a printing company at the time it mortgaged its plant must relate to the conditions as a going concern when the mortgage alleged to have been a preference was given and not to the dead matter of the plant after bankruptcy intervened. I. W. Butler Paper Co. v. Goembel, (C. C. A.) 143 Fed. 295.

An order of the referee confirming a receiver's sale of the bankrupt's property is competent evidence on the issue of insolvency where it appears that the assets of the bankrupt had not varied from the time when the alleged preferential payment was made to the time of the receiver's sale. Pike Ave. Bank v. Studheim, (C. C. A.) 145 Fed. 708.

A man is insolvent, as that term is defined by the Bankruptcy Act, when the aggregate of his property exclusive of any property which he may have conveyed, transferred, concealed, or removed, or permitted to be concealed or removed with intent to defraud, hinder or delay his creditors, shall not at a fair valuation be sufficient in amount to pay his debts. In re Louisville First Nat. Bank, (C. C. A.) 155 Fed. [illegible].

In determining the issue as to the solvency or insolvency of the bankrupt under the Act of 1898 all the property which he owns is to be reckoned in computing the amount of his assets, except such as he may have transferred or concealed in fraud of creditors, but not excluding property which is exempt by the laws of the state. In re Crenshaw, 156 Fed. 638.

Under the Georgia Traders' Act it must appear that the debtor was a trader at the time the petition was filed. Illinois Sewing-Mach. Co. v. Whilden, 128 Ga. 169, 57 S. E. 235.

657. 1. In making out the defense of solvency to avoid the consequences of a conveyance made in bad faith the property thus conveyed is not to be computed in determining whether the aggregate of the defendant's property at the time of the filing of the petition against him was at a fair valuation sufficient in amount to pay his debts. Acme Food Co. v. Meier, (C. C. A.) 153 Fed. 74.

Solvency when the petition is filed is important only as a defense to an act of bankruptcy, and the burden of showing this is on the defendant. If the act of bankruptcy is the giving of a preference there must be a stated insolvency at the time of the preference, and the solvency or insolvency at the time of the filing of the petition can have only a reflex importance, if any. Acme Food Co. v. Meier, (C. C. A.) 153 Fed. 74.

The administration of all the bankrupt's property passes to the bankruptcy court on the adjudication of bankruptcy, though it may be subject to liens acquired more than four months before the bankruptcy proceeding was commenced, and the lienholder cannot enforce his lien independently of the bankruptcy court. In re Baughman, 138 Fed. 742, following In re Vastbinder, 132 Fed. 718.

The bankruptcy proceeding is not a mere personal action against the bankrupt for the collection of debts. Its purpose is to impound all of his nonexempt property, to distribute it equitably among his creditors, and to release him from further liability. It operates both in personam and in rem, and affects both the personalty and the realty. Shute v. Patterson, (C. C. A.) 147 Fed. 509.

Subdivisions a and b of section 60 of the Bankruptcy Act of 1898 must be read together in determining whether a mortgage given by a debtor within four months before his bankruptcy is a preference which the trustee may avoid. In re Armstrong, 145 Fed. 202.

The preferential character of a transfer is to be determined on the facts existing at the time the transfer was made. Seager v. Lamm, 95 Minn. 325, 104 N. W. 1.

It is a preference for an officer of a corporation to take a transfer of corporate assets as security for money advanced by him to pay a debt of which he is a guarantor. Moody v. Chicago Title, etc., Co., 125 Ill. App. 68.

Any person who takes property of a bankrupt otherwise than by descent is a purchaser. Wright v. Sampter, 152 Fed. 196.

A person who has had stolen money restored to him, he being in entire ignorance of both the theft and the restoration, has not received the preference under the Bankruptcy Act so as to entitle the trustee to recover such amount from him. McNaboe v. Columbian Mfg. Co., (C. C. A.) 153 Fed. 967.

A valid lien on property of the bankrupt is not affected by his giving the creditor a mortgage, though such mortgage is invalid as a preference under the Bankruptcy Law. Smith v. Au Gres Tp., (C. C. A.) 150 Fed. 257.

A mortgage or other preferential transfer within four months of the filing of the petition in bankruptcy is not validated by the fact that it was executed in the performance of a contract to do so made more than four months before the filing of the petition. In re Great Western Mfg. Co., (C. C. A.) 152 Fed. 123.

An adjudication in bankruptcy on the ground that a mortgage given within four months was a preference is not res judicata as to the fact of the preference so as to entitle the trustee in bankruptcy to recover from the mortgagee. Hussey v. Richardson-Roberts Dry Goods Co., (C. C. A.) 148 Fed. 598.

A mortgage on a stock of merchandise which allows the mortgagor to retain possession with power of sale in the course of his business, being valid between the parties by the local law (Ohio), does not operate as a preference because the mortgagee took possession within four months before the bankruptcy of the mortgagor, the mortgage having been given more than four months before the bankruptcy to secure the bona fide debt. Fisher v. Zollinger, (C. C. A.) 149 Fed. 54.

It is a good defense to an action by the trustee to recover money paid by the bankrupt that the payment was in discharge of a mortgage on the bankrupt's property, but this puts the validity of the mortgage in issue and the burden of proof is on the defendant. Rogers v. Page, (C. C. A.) 140 Fed. 596.

A contractor assigned all his plant to the surety on his contractor's bond in the event of his being unable to complete or carry on the contract. More than four months thereafter the contractor became bankrupt. It was held that the act of the surety in taking possession of the contractor's plant under the indemnity agreement, though within four months before the bankruptcy, did not operate as an unlawful preference. Wood v. U. S. Fidelity, etc., Co., 143 Fed. 424.

Where a conveyance is set aside as a preference, the purchase money having been used to pay creditors of the bankrupt grantor, the purchaser has a valid claim against the trustee in bankruptcy for the full amount of the money he paid less the expenses of setting aside the sale. Barber v. Coit, (C. C. A.) 144 Fed. 381.

The trustee is entitled to recover only to the extent necessary for the payment of claims, costs, and expenses. Rogers v. Page, (C. C. A.) 140 Fed. 596.

Debtor Must Be Insolvent to Constitute a Voidable Transfer. — Wright v. Cotten, 140 N. Car. 1, 52 S. E. 141.

Adjudication Conclusive as to Insolvency. — Silvey v. Tift, 123 Ga. 804, 51 S. E. 748.

Transfer through Third Person. — Russell v. Powell, 38 Wash. 651, 80 Pac. 837.

Transfer May Be a Preference Though Creditor Is Secured. — Horstman v. Little, (Tex. Civ. App. 1905) 88 S. W. 286.

Transfer to Sureties Not a Preference of Creditor. — Horstman v. Little, (Tex. 1906) 90 S. W. 1095, rehearing denied (Tex. 1906) 92 S. W. 407.

Transfer Not Voidable for Benefit of Creditor Whose Claims Accrued after Discharge. — Johnson v. Donohue, 113 Tenn. 446, 83 S. W. 360.

Payment of Money. — Wright v. Cotten, 140 N. Car. 1, 52 S. E. 141; West v. Lahoma Bank, 16 Okla. 328, 85 Pac. 469.

Mortgage to Secure Antecedent Debt. Empire State Trust Co. v. Fisher, 67 N. J. Eq. 602, 60 Atl. 940.

Judgment Docketed More than Four Months Before Bankruptcy. — Hillyer v. Le Roy, 179 N. Y. 369, 72 N. E. 237.

Taking Possession within Four Months under Unrecorded Mortgage. — In re Chadwick, 140 Fed. 674.

Taking Possession within Four Months after bankruptcy, under a bill of sale given before that time to secure a loan, relates back to the execution of the bill of sale, and is therefore not a voidable preference. Christ v. Zehner, 212 Pa. St. 188, 61 Atl. 822; In re National Valve Co., 140 Fed. 679; Stewart v. Hoffman, 31 Mont. 190, 81 Pac. 3.

Time Computed from Date of Recording. — In re Hunt, 139 Fed. 283; Buchanan County First Nat. Bank v. Connett, (C. C. A.) 142 Fed. 33; Bowler v. Pipestone First Nat. Bank, (S. Dak. 1907) 113 N. W. 618.

Where an involuntary petition has been adjudged insufficient because the proper number of creditors did not join, and afterwards other creditors unite so as to make up the proper number, the petition will be deemed to have been filed at that date for the purpose of computing the four months within which preferences are avoided. Manning v. Evans, 156 Fed. 106.

The provision of the statute that the four months shall not begin to run until the date of recording the transfer applies only to written instruments of transfer. Mower v. McCarthy, 79 Vt. 142, 64 Atl. 578, 7 L. R. A. (N. S.) 418.

The amendment of 1903 providing that the four months shall begin to run from the date of recording a mortgage given by the bankrupt is not retroactive. Murphy v. Murphy, 126 Iowa 157, 101 N. W. 486.

Before the amendment of 1903 the time was computed from the date of the execution of a mortgage. Murphy v. Murphy, 126 Iowa 157, 101 N. W. 486.

Mortgage Held to Be Transfer as of Date of Recording. — Loeser v. Savings Deposit Bank, etc., Co., (C. C. A.) 148 Fed. 975.

An unrecorded mortgage if valid between the parties by the local law does not operate as a preference because it is recorded after the bankruptcy of the mortgagor. In re McIntosh, (C. C. A.) 150 Fed. 546. See also infra, this title, 749. 5.

Payment to Attorney for Services to Be Rendered. — In re Habegger, 139 Fed. 623, 3 Ann. Cas. 276.

Payments on Running Account. — An increase in the bankrupt's estate as a net result of transactions between the bankrupt and the creditor within four months prior to filing the petition in bankruptcy, where the last transaction was a payment on account of the indebtedness, is not sufficient to relieve the creditor from surrendering this last payment as preferential before he has permitted the balance of his claim against the bankrupt's estate, when the account runs far back beyond the four months before the petition was presented and the transactions end a large payment on account of the whole indebtedness. In re Watkinson, 146 Fed. 142, affirmed (C. C. A.) 153 Fed. 562.

Price of Property Purchased from Bankrupt and Applied to Debt Due Purchaser. — Stern v. Mayer, 113 N. Y. App. Div. 181, 98 N. Y. Supp. 1028.

Deposit in Bank to Which Bankrupt Is Indebted Not a Preferential Transfer. — Habegger v. St. Paul First Nat. Bank, 94 Minn. 445, 103 N. W. 10.

The payment of a bank loan by check drawn on the debtor's account with the bank is none the less a preference because the bank would have been entitled to retain the amount of its debt out of the deposit. Ridge Ave. Bank v. Studheim, (C. C. A.) 145 Fed. 798. Compare Tomlinson v. Lexington Bank, (C. C. A.) 145 Fed. 824, holding that a deposit in a bank to make good overdrafts was not a preference.

A Defective Mortgage filed for registration more than four months before the bankruptcy of the mortgagor, but not actually registered, may be corrected and registered and will take effect as of the date of deposit for registration in accordance with the local law. In re International Mahogany Co., (C. C. A.) 147 Fed. 147.

Mortgage of Exempt Property. — The character as a preference of a mortgage given within four months before bankruptcy is not affected by the fact that the mortgaged property is exempt. The exemption may be claimed only by the bankrupt personally and not by his mortgagee. Mitchell v. Mitchell, 147 Fed. 280.

Check Drawn by Officer of Insolvent Bank. — In re Plant, 148 Fed. 37.

The Lien of a Mortgage Covering After-acquired Property attaches at the time the property is acquired and relates back to its date and not to the time when the mortgagee takes possession under it, and therefore does not operate as a preference under the Bankruptcy Act because possession is taken within four months prior to the petition in bankruptcy. Fisher v. Zollinger, (C. C. A.) 149 Fed. 54.

Person Benefited by Preference. — In re Sanderson, 149 Fed. 273.

Dation En Paiement in Louisiana Not a Preference. — Gomila v. Wilcombe, (C. C. A.) 151 Fed. 470.

Expense of Transferee in Keeping Property. — In re Nechamkus, 155 Fed. 867.

Creditor Must Obtain Greater Percentage of His Claim than Other Creditors. — Bacon v. Merchants' Bank, 146 Ala. 521, 40 So. 413; Sellers v. Hayes, 163 Ind. 422, 72 N. E. 119; Jackman v. Eau Claire Nat. Bank, 125 Wis. 465, 104 N. W. 98.

Money Collected under Execution is not recoverable by the trustee though the judgment was obtained within the four months. Starbuck v. Gebo, (County Ct.) 48 Misc. (N. Y.) 333, 96 N. Y. Supp. 781.

Actual Knowledge or Actual Belief that the debtor was insolvent is not necessary. Reasonable cause of belief is all that is required. Sundheim v. Ridge Ave. Bank, 138 Fed. 951.

It is not necessary that the creditor should in fact have believed or even had reasonable cause to believe that the debtor was insolvent at the time of the transfer. It is enough to constitute reasonable cause to believe him insolvent that the facts and circumstances with reference to the debtor's financial condition which are brought home to the creditor are such as would put an ordinarily prudent man on inquiry and if pursued would lead to a knowledge of insolvency. In re Virginia Hardwood Mfg. Thus the trustee in bankruptcy of a lessee takes the lease subject to a notice to quit given to the bankrupt before the adjudication. Lindeke v. Associates Realty Co., (C. C. A.) 146 Fed. 630.

A sale induced by the fraud of the bankrupt may be rescinded after the bankruptcy and the goods recovered from the trustee, but in order that the vendor may recover he must show knowledge of insolvency on the part of the bankrupt and an intention not to pay for the goods. The mere fact that the bankrupt knew that he was insolvent is not sufficient. In re Levi, 148 Fed. 654.

Where a municipal officer uses funds of the municipality in making additions to his stock of goods as a merchant and it is impossible to ascertain the portion so purchased, the municipality has a lien on the bankrupt's estate. Smith v. Au Gres Tp., (C. C. A.) 150 Fed. 257.

A valid lien on property of the bankrupt is not affected by his giving the creditor a mortgage though such mortgage is invalid as a preference under the bankruptcy law. Smith v. Au Gres Tp., (C. C. A.) 150 Fed. 257.

A mortgagee has an equitable lien on the proceeds of a fire policy on the mortgaged chattels, though the mortgage was not recorded and no steps had been taken by the mortgagee to assert his right. Hanson v. Blake, 155 Fed. 342.

The fact that a creditor has received a preference in one transaction does not affect the validity of a lien on the bankrupt's property acquired in a different transaction. In re Franklin, 151 Fed. 642.

Since the trustee succeeds to the bankrupt's title and represents all his rights, the bankrupt is not a necessary party to a proceeding to determine the validity of an alleged lien on the bankrupt's property. Goodnough Mercantile, etc., Co. v. Galloway, 156 Fed. 504.

The property is not subject to sale under the lien as against the trustee. Hence, an execution obtained more than four months before bankruptcy may be stayed by the bankruptcy court, but the execution creditor will not be deprived of his priority. If the trustee sells the property free from liens the lien of the execution will attach to the proceeds. In re Baughman, 138 Fed. 742, following In re Vastbinder, 132 Fed. 718.

Composition Agreement Construed. — La Banque d'Hochelaga v. Beauchamp, 36 Can. Sup. Ct. 18.

765. 1. An agreement between a third person and a creditor that such third person would advance the necessary money for the composition and that the creditor would refund the share which he should receive is an illegal contract and not enforceable against such creditor. McCormick v. Solinsky, (C. C. A.) 152 Fed. 984.

2. The application must be made within six months after confirmation of the composition. In re Eisenberg, 148 Fed. 325.

766. 4. Conditional Discharge. — In re Dallmeyer, 22 Times L. Rep. 445.

"Where the same debts and the same assets are scheduled in the two proceedings, one being commenced subsequent to the termination of the other, it is manifest that the last proceeding is merely an attempt to evade the former one. To permit it would be to sanction a fraud upon the court." In re Kuffler, (C. C. A.) 151 Fed. 12, reversing 144 Fed. 445.

The discharge releases the debtor from all liability in respect to property acquired after bankruptcy. This is the policy of the statute, and, therefore, an assignment of future wages to secure an existing debt cannot be enforced after a discharge in bankruptcy. In re Home Discount Co., 147 Fed. 538.

The refusal of discharge operates as res judicata as to the bankrupt's right to a discharge; therefore, the debts provable in such proceeding cannot be discharged in a subsequent bankruptcy proceeding, and it is immaterial that such debts had in the meantime been reduced to judgment. In re Kuffler, 155 Fed. 1018; In re Kuffler, (C. C. A.) 151 Fed. 12, reversing 144 Fed. 445.

A policy was made to cover a house and the furniture contained in it in separate items, and after removal of the furniture to another building a slip was attached stating that the clause relating to the furniture was thereby made to "read and cover as follows," and followed this statement by a clause insuring household furniture. The policy provided that it should be void in case the building should become unoccupied, but the form on the attached slip permitted vacancy during change of tenants. A fire occurred thirty days after the removal of the furniture and while the house was vacant. In an action for the amount of insurance on the house it was held that the slip modified only the provisions relating to the furniture and did not permit vacancy of the house. Alvey v. Continental Ins. Co., 2 Cal. App. 253, 83 Pac. 285.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE.

31. 5. Power to Regulate Commerce among the states is general, and includes authority to regulate all its parts, (1) the subjects of commerce, the articles, information, intelligence transported from state to state; (2) the transactors of commerce, the merchants, carriers, laborers who carry it on; (3) the means, the vehicles, the cars, steamboats, coaches, wagons by which subjects of commerce are carried; (4) the operation, the contracts, terms, rates under which it is conducted. While this power to regulate is general, the regulations themselves by means of which this power is exercised must necessarily be particular and appropriate to the respective parts of this commerce which they are enacted to govern. U. S. v. Colorado, etc., R. Co., (C. C. A.) 157 Fed. 321.

42. 4. New Mexico v. Denver, etc., R. Co., 203 U. S. 38, 27 U. S. Sup. Ct. 1, 51 U. S. (L. ed.) 78; State v. Wiggins Ferry Co., 208 Mo. 622, 106 S. W. 1005.

Test of Interstate Commerce. — Importation into one state from another is the indispensable element, the test, of interstate commerce. Every part of every transportation of articles of commerce in a continuous passage from an inception in one state to a prescribed destination in another is a transaction of interstate commerce. Goods so carried never cease to be articles of interstate commerce from the time they are started upon their passage in one state until their delivery at their destination in the other is completed, and they there mingle with and become a part of the great mass of property within the latter state. Their transportation never ceases to be a transaction of interstate commerce from its inception in one state until the delivery of the goods at their prescribed destinations in the other, and every one who participates in it, who carries the goods through any part of their continuous passage, unavoidably engages in interstate commerce. U. S. v. Colorado, etc., R. Co., (C. C. A.) 157 Fed. 321.

"Commerce among the states does not depend on the residence of the parties, but on the interchange of property between different states." People v. Reardon, 184 N. Y. 431, 77 N. E. 970.

Thus, a sale of property in one state for delivery in another is a transaction of interstate commerce. Globe Elevator Co. v. Andrew, 144 Fed. 871.

Provided no reasonable and satisfactory through route exists. Enterprise Transportation Co. v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 12 Int. Com. C. [illegible].

Authority of Commission. — Section 15 confers upon the commission authority to require carriers to establish through routes when they have failed or refused voluntarily to do so, and when there is no reasonable or satisfactory through route already in existence. Cardiff Coal Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 13 Int. Com. C. 465.

The commission cannot make a general ruling that "through rates must not exceed the sum of the locals." Each case must be disposed of upon its own merits. Coffeyville Vitrified Brick, etc., Co. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 12 Int. Com. C. 498.

Carrier Must Obtain Concurrence of Other Carriers. — "A carrier cannot establish a through route and joint rate except under concurrence of the other carriers that form parts of such route." Memphis Freight Bureau v. Ft. Smith, etc., R. Co., 13 Int. Com. C. 8.

Division of Joint Rates. — The statute apparently provides that the commission shall in the first instance establish the through route and joint rate, and shall only fix the divisions of that rate in case the carriers themselves have failed to agree after the same has been established. Cattle Raisers' Assoc. v. Galveston, etc., R. Co., 12 Int. Com. C. 23.

Division of Joint Rates upon Milling Basis. See Birmingham Packing Co. v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 12 Int. Com. C. 500.

Co., 12 Int. Com. C. 134.

Higher Rate to Less Distant Point When Prohibited. — The charging of a higher rate to a less distant point is prohibited only where the carrier responsible for both rates occupies a like relation to the more distant point to which the lower rate applies. Railroad Commission v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 13 Int. Com. C. 369.

155. 5. Contra. — The commission views with disfavor the maintenance of a lower rate for a longer haul than for a shorter one included within the longer. Bovaird Supply Co. v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 13 Int. Com. C. 64.

156. 3. Commercial, etc., Assoc. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 12 Int. Com. C. 372; Rock Hill Buggy Co. v. Southern R. Co., 11 Int. Com. 158. 2. See Washburn-Crosby Co. v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 13 Int. Com. C. 40.

160. 2. Rate Imposed by Law. — When the rate has been regularly published it is no longer the rate imposed by the carrier but the rate imposed by the law. A. J. Poor Grain Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 12 Int. Com. C. 422.

Refrigeration Charges should be published and filed with the commission. Matter of Charges for Transportation, etc., of Fruit, 11 Int. Com. C. 129.

3. Duty to Post in Two Public Places in Depot, Station, or Office. — Wabash R. Co. v. Sloop, 200 Mo. 198, 98 S. W. 607.

Removal of Schedule. — The fact that the schedules required to be posted have been removed does not relieve the carrier. Griffin v. Wabash R. Co., 115 Mo. App. 549, 91 S. W. 1015.

Schedule Showing Place of Transfer, Rates, etc. — If a carrier provides for points of transfer in making delivery to the second carrier it must publish and file a tariff showing where the transfer will be made, the kind of transfer service required, and the rates and charges to be exacted therefor. Schwager v. Great Northern R. Co., 12 Int. Com. C. 524.

161. 1. Evidence of Filing. — In the absence of proof of the records of the commission the best evidence of filing would be a certified copy. Griffin v. Wabash R. Co., 115 Mo. App. 549, 91 S. W. 1015.

4. Requisites of Schedule. — Schedules should contain all particulars which materially affect the value of the service to the shipper and the cost to the carrier. Shiel v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 12 Int. Com. C. 211.

Schedule should show that tickets are non-transferable, otherwise such transfer cannot be enjoined. Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Hamburger, 155 Fed. 849.

"A tariff or schedule of transportation rates does not conform to the law which makes the rate charged dependent upon one or more factors which do not enter into the transportation as it is actually conducted." Pacific Coast Jobbers, etc., Assoc. v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 12 Int. Com. C. 324.

Charges for Refrigeration should be included in the schedule. Waxelbaum v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 12 Int. Com. C. 178.

A Majority of Voters Must Sign, but it is proper for voters who have signed the application for a license to change their minds and sign the remonstrance. Simpson v. Com., (Ky. 1906) 97 S. W. 404.

"Block" Construed. — A statute requiring the remonstrance to be signed by one-fourth of the property owners doing business upon both sides of the street in the block upon which the dramshop has its main entrance, is satisfied by one-quarter of the property owners on the street signing the remonstrance. The signatures of one-quarter of the property owners of the entire block are not required. Chicago v. O'Hare, 124 Ill. App. 290.

In Indiana the remonstrants must constitute a majority of the greatest aggregate vote cast for the candidates for any office at the last preceding general election. Kunkle v. Abell, 167 Ind. 434, 79 N. E. 753.
